Better Life from the Inside Out

At Bayer, we not only help develop the innovations that improve lives, we help life discover new inner strength. Our scientists are collaborating with international experts in oncology on novel immunotherapies that could help patients mobilize their body's resistance forces in the fight against cancer. Our research in the latest crop breeding techniques is enabling us to develop stronger, more insect- and drought-resistant crops, helping to improve yield under the most challenging conditions. Our work has made us one of the top consumer healthcare companies in the world, bringing consumers some of the world's best-known and most trusted over-the-counter medications and dietary supplements.

Through protection, prevention and innovation, Bayer develops the solutions that transform big challenges into better outcomes—in the U.S. and around the world.

CENTER FOR HEALTHCARE ECONOMICS AND POLICY

The experienced healthcare professionals at FTI Consulting's Center for Healthcare Economics and Policy work closely with clients to provide data-driven strategy solutions based on empirical analyses and modeling. Successful achievement of the Triple Aim - reducing the per capita cost of healthcare, improving health of populations, and enhancing experience of care - is most effective when driven by well-informed and involved stakeholders.

WE'RE CONNECTING THE DOTS WITH DATA

Blue Cross and Blue Shield companies are doing big things with data. Gleaned from connecting more members with more providers in more communities, we're transforming robust data into rich insights and meaningful solutions. Collaborating with providers to transform care. Partnering with employers to gain unique understanding. Empowering consumers with tools to make better informed healthcare decisions. And pulling it all together with data to make healthcare work better for everyone, community by community, nationwide. From the name who started it all.
